

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

Our former neighbor Wayland Bryan was buried Sunday. He had recently suffered a stroke. Before he and his wife moved to Montgomery to be near their doctor, he kept us supplied with some mighty good tomatoes. After he retired, Wayland had a lot of time to do things he liked and fortunately for our neighborhood, he liked growing tomatoes. We still miss him and mourn with his family.

The gambling issue in Alabama continues to get attention. We think Mayor Dow, of Mobile, made a political mistake when he failed to release his study on the increase in social expense if Mobile gets legal gambling. We agree the numbers are someone's estimate and the only true figure will be several years of experience, but his pocketing a report which indicates an increase of $15 million in gambling related expenses gives ammunition to opponents.

We heard a report Tuesday that the newest idea to sell the gambling proposal to the voters will be an agreement to give $1 million a year to each of the 63 counties which don't have a casino. That will surely help sway voters who only look at the economics of the matter, but it still leaves the moral issue open. We admire the effort. Last week we would have said the casino issue would not pass in Alabama this year. Now our thinking ends up with a question... At what point will the majority of the voters swap the morals of the issue for the almighty dollar?

Senator Howell Heflin may be a "lame duck" senator, having announced he will not seek re-election, but he continues to join his fellow Alabamians in pushing the Navy to consolidate basic helicopter training at Fort Rucker. This week Heflin reportedly told the chairman of the Commission on Roles and Missions, "No matter how much the Navy protests about training at an Army base, the move will save money..." That commission is the one which was created to do things the various branches of the military wouldn't do because they were to busy protecting their own little turf. A news release this week by Heflin reminds us that this idea of consolidation was first recommended more than 15 years ago by a former Navy Secretary.

When the flood waters hit Southern Louisiana earlier this month Red Cross volunteers were rushed in to help. Among those in the first wave was Elba native Walter Smith, who now resides in Baldwin County near Mobile. After retiring from a job in the insurance business, Smith spends a lot of his free time responding to disasters across the United States. We have heard reports from relatives we have in that area that when Walter isn't working a disaster, he is busy appearing before church and civic groups recruiting additional volunteers. Salute.

It was announced last week that General Motors will stop building full-size rear-wheel drive cars after next year. That includes the Chevrolet Caprice, Buick Roadmaster and Cadillac Fleetwood. The news shocked us. Then we read the entire news report and found that the PR folks had done some deep thinking before making the announcement. They reported the cars are sold mostly to OLDER buyers who... Now after reading that statement, there probably isn't a woman in this world who wants one of those full size cars. That means they will stay on the lot until old folks like me can afford to buy them and that is good 'cause I like 'em.

The U. S. Supreme Court ruling striking down an Arkansas law setting term limits for U. S. Representatives and Senators didn't come as a surprise in this corner. The court isn't opposing term limits, they are saying the states can't impose them because they are set by the U. S. Constitution. Now the monkey is on the back of our national officials. If there continues to be pressure from back home, they will pass such a law. Otherwise, as we have written before... term limits can be controlled by the voters (and very effectively).

House Passes Plan to Balance Federal Budget

Yes, finally it's true. The U.S. House of Representatives has finally passed a spending plan which requires a balanced federal budget by the year 2002.

By a vote of 238 to 193 last week, House members stood up for our children's future and agreed to a seven-year blueprint for our national budget.

The new Republican budget blueprint sets spending limits by category and offers recommendations on how to reach those goals. The recommendations are yet to be finalized, but the overall caps - the spending limits that will bring our budget into balance by the year 2002 - are in place.

Not only will this budget plan save our children from financial ruin and scandalous amounts of debt, but eliminating the federal budget deficit will also bring immediate benefit to every American working family.

The U.S. Government's General Accounting Office predicts if we balance the budget seven years from now, the average American will have real growth in income of 36 percent over the next 25 years.

Experts with the economic forecasting firm DRUMCRAVE-Hill estimate that balancing the budget would create 2.4 million additional jobs in ten years and put an extra $1,000 a year in every American family's pocket.

The Republican budget plan meets the mandate of the American people to reduce the size, scope and cost of federal government.

Through necessary sacrifices and belt-tightening the seven-year

Buckle Up America Week May 22-29

In recognition of Buckle Up America Week, Dr. David L. Williams, state health officer, Alabama Department of Public Health, reminds motorists that buckling up is the most effective measure they can take to protect themselves in a crash and urges them to make it a habit during Buckle Up! America Week, May 22-29.

During this week, state and local safety groups, as well as law enforcement officers, make a special effort to encourage people to use safety belts, child safety seats and air bags by increasing information and enforcement of state belt use laws.

All 50 states, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico have laws requiring the use of child safety seats, and 48 states and the district have laws requiring seat belt use.

The chance of serious injury or death is reduced significantly by wearing safety belts.

According to 1993 Alabama statistics, there were 1,040 people killed in 911 fatal accidents, seven percent of these automobile fatalities occurred in people not wearing seatbelts.

In the United States, in 1993, safety belts saved more than 5,000 lives and have saved more than 40,000 lives since 1983. Child safety seats saved approximately 250 lives in 1993 and have saved more than 2,000 since 1983.

In 1982, before any state had a belt use law, only about 11 percent of Americans use seatbelts because of increased law enforcement and public information efforts.

However, according to the 1994

fall seatbelt survey conducted by the Alabama Department of Public Health, only 54 percent of Alabama motorists currently use safety belts and 57 percent use child safety seats.

Dr. Williams stresses that the cost related to lack of safety belt use only increases the need for everyone to buckle up.

The public could save $12 billion annually by getting everyone into a safety belt, according to the National Public Research Institute. Every adult who uses his or her safety belt currently pays $110 a year to cover nonusers.

Buckle Up! America Week is part of the safety agency's "Campaign Safe and Sober," a nationwide effort to reduce impaired driving and increase the use of safety belts and child safety seats.

We get letters

Dear Editor,

A couple of weeks ago I read a letter in The Elba Clipper from Debora Vaughn. It told how she was having to fight to get child support. Her ex-husband is extremely behind in his payments. In fact, she hasn't received any money since September 1994, so she hired an attorney who charged her the amount she was owed by her ex-husband. Needless to say, she was upset due to the fact that after she paid her attorney, she was now out double the money than when she started. My heart goes out to Debora and her two precious daughters (ages 9 and 4). Is there anyone out there (attorney) who can help her? It's not like she just sits at home and lives off hand-outs. Let me explain. Debora, who is in her early 30's, is a working woman. Even on those days when it takes all she can do (literally) to get out of bed, she does. Why? Because she has to feed her two daughters and keep insurance on herself and her kids. Four years ago she found out her kidneys were not functioning and had to have a transplant. In July of last year she found out she was now #1 on the list. As of today, she still hasn't received a transplant, but has had to be hospitalized a numerous amount of times. I see Debora almost every weekend at church with her parents and children. Sometimes she just looks like she just can't keep on going, but she always has a smile for each one of us. Thank God Debora Vaughn isn't a quitter! I guess knowing her circumstances is what makes me so angry with the way her case has been handled. Is it fair that a man can marry a woman, father two children, divorce her, then quit his job just to keep from paying child support? Why can't he be put in jail or in a work release program and made to work to help her support their children? Debora does need help! There have two accounts set up for her at SouthTrust Bank and Peoples Bank in Elba. Most of all, Debora and her family needs your prayers.

Hobbs-Peters united in marriage

Miss Rebecca Peters and Mr. Jeffrey David Hobbs were united in marriage on November 25, 1994 at 6:00 p.m., at Victoria Baptist Church, Reverend Ben Ampong officiated in the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Peters of Elba, AL. The groom's parents are Mrs. Janet Hobbs of Elba, AL and Mr. Tom Hobbs of Fayetteville, NC. The grandparents of the bride are Floyd and Ola Young of Ft. Pierce, FL and the late S.D. and Kate Peters of New Brockton, AL. The groom is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. William Lawford of Elba, AL.

The entry doors of the church were adorned with bells and ribbons. Stephanie Brooks of Elba, AL presided over the bridal registry. The table was decorated with royal blue ribbons and mauve bows.

The choir loft was centered with a 15 branch candleabra with flowers on the front. A heart-shaped candleabra stood on each side. They held palms and ferns.

The reserved pews were marked with white and royal satin bows.

Phillip Adcock and Shea Nelson of Elba, AL provided nuptial music for the occasion, including "Now and Forever" by Richard Marx, and John Michael Montgomery. Pianist for this beautiful occasion was Elaine Head of Victoria, AL.

The bride was given in marriage, and escorted to the altar, by her father, Bill Peters. She wore a formal gown of white satin fashioned with a "v" cut neckline, Gibson sleeves and a basque waist. The bodice was accented with beaded chivalry lace.

The full sleeve had a chivalry lace insert with a satin bow to accent the miniature pearls and iridescent sequins.

The full skirt had three large lace beaded medallions on the front, and the back had chivalry lace inserts that lead to a beaded hem lace that swept to a cathedral train.

For a headpiece, she chose a tiara of iridescent sequins, pearl sprays, and appliques. A small puff was attached on the back over a three tier elbow length veil.

She carried a silk cascade bouquet of mixed mauve, white, and royal flowers.

Cindi Flippin, best friend of the bride, of Ft. Pierce, FL, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Bridget Greenwood and Jennifer Eiland, both of Elba, AL and friends of the bride. Tiffany Peters, niece of the bride, served as flower girl.

The attendants and flower girl wore matching gowns of royal prima satin, designed with a sweetheart neckline, basque waist, and short puff sleeves. The back featured a heart shaped key-hole, accented with a bow and satin straps. The satin skirt, slightly gathered at the waist, fell to a waterfall hemline. They carried silk nosegays of white, royal, and mauve flowers.

Tom Hobbs, father of the groom, of Fayetteville, NC, served as best man. Groomsman were John Peters, brother of the bride, of Ft. Pierce, FL, and Bobby Bowden, friend of the groom, of Elba, AL. They wore black tuxedos with mauve cummerbunds and bow ties.

The groom was also attired in a black tuxedo with a white bow tie and cummerbund.

The groom and his attendants wore boutonnieres of white silk roses with a touch of blue and mauve.

Brent Ordway, nephew of the groom, of Elba, AL, served as ring bearer. He wore a black tuxedo with a mauve cummerbund and bow tie. He carried a white satin and lace heart-shaped pillow.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Peters chose a royal blue satin, two-piece dress. The mother of the groom, Mrs. Janet Hobbs, was attired in a royal blue and black floral dress. Each had a corsage of white silk roses.

The wedding was directed by Rev. Ben Ampong.

Following the ceremony, a reception was given by the bride's parents at the Victoria Baptist Church social hall.

The registry table was covered with a white table cloth, accented by mauve and blue ribbons and bows.

The focal point of the reception was the bride's wedding cake, which was a three-tiered, floating white, heart-shaped cake with mauve roses and royal blue ribbons. The table had inscribed napkins, dinner mints, punch, mixed nuts, and was decorated with a mauve tablecloth and skirt, with royal blue and mauve ribbons and bows. Leigh Ann Jones and Stephanie Brooks of Elba, AL served at this table.

The groom's cake was chocolate with chocolate icing. The top was covered with roses and ribbons. The table was decorated with a royal blue tablecloth and skirt, with mauve bows and ribbons. It held a punch bowl, dinner mints, fruit, inscribed napkins, and nuts. Serving the groom's cake and other refreshments were Leigh Ann Jones and Stephanie Brooks of Elba, AL.

Miss Stephanie Brooks of Elba, AL distributed birdseed bags to the guests.

After a wedding trip to Panama City Beach, the couple is now residing in Jack, AL.

ZCHS Class Of '95's Last Will & Testament

I, Angie Davis, do hereby leave my research paper to Ben Maddox and Elliot Lipsett so that they can pass Senior English. I would like to leave my sister, Amy Eddins, my ability to drive so that she can drive an hour to school everyday.

I, Samella Green, do hereby leave my typing ability to Shane Bragg so he can finish his term paper before his graduation day. I leave Thomas Canley and Kevin Hobbs the ability to be tardy for first period and get away with it.

I, Jason Allen, leave Chris Hinoite my ability to drive a fast automobile with skill. My maturity I leave to Brad Grant, Craig Smith, and Kevin Allen. I would like to leave my desire to graduate to my sister, Gina Allen.

I, Melissa Jones, being of sound mind and body would like to remember Kevin Stokes, my carpool companion of the last semester. To Kevin I would like to leave a copy of Rednex "Cotton Eyed Joe"...the only song we could agree on for the ride to Elba.

I, Tazzie Messer, leave Julie Carter the ability to think on a human level. I leave Jennifer Jones all of my break detentions with Ms. Hobbs.

I leave my musical ability and heart to all of my friends. Brent Smith

I leave everything to those I love. You know who you are. Ben Davis

I leave my ability to just get by to my little brother, Josh Faircloth. Calvin Faircloth

The first thing I want to leave is to Ms. Herbert. Thanks for believing in me. The second thing is to Tina for her being beside me throughout all the hard times. Thank you, I love you and I will always. Greg McWaters

I leave to Roger Marler my ability to drive. Phillip Davis

I, Jeremy Till, leave my football equipment to Roy Stewart and Elliot Lipsett. They will need it. To my brother, Chris Till, I leave him my ability to make it through anything and to Amanda Williams I leave you all the love your heart can hold.

I would like to leave Christina Brannan my calm temper. Joseph Grantham

I leave my ability to drive a vehicle and bring it back with no parts missing to Kevin Hobbs, and to Steve Hodge I leave my ability to touch type and get more than 40 words per minute and more than 80% accuracy in Unit One. Bridley Black

I leave my brother, Justin Prescott, my even tempered personality that enables me to get along with everybody all the time. I also leave him my ability to annoy Mrs. Bryan and have her still love me. Josh Prescott

I leave will to the underclassmen to be in school everyday and to behave like they should. I also wish them all my love and luck. I would like to leave my ability to my brother, Jason. Stephanie Parrish

I, Cade Wilson, will leave the football team my spirit and loyalty and to Larry Sikes my humorous jokes and pranks.

I, Donna Windham, leave Casey and Cassidy my great family values. I leave the new varsity cheerleaders my ability to strike up a crowd. I leave Mrs. McClinton my cheerleading bill to pay for all I would leave Josh and Kem something, but I'm taking them with me.

I, Stacy Brooks, do hereby leave Amber Shiver the ability to be organized and on time especially for giving speeches. I also leave Amy Jackson the ability to be a little less shy.

I, Pamela Bell, would like to leave my politeness to my sister, Lori Foster, who will need to stop talking and listen to what other people have to say.

To Sabrina Stokes, 1995-96 SGA president, I leave my fabulous personality. To the student body of Zion Chapel High School I leave my heart, because even though I am leaving, my heart will always be here. Joey Arnold

I, Sharon Young, leave my ability to say what I want when I want to Susan. I leave my party ability to Brad and Steve and all my kisses to Hanna Whitt. Most of all, I leave my heart to Kevin Allen.

I leave behind, for my brother, my most prized possession, my Michael Jordan jersey #45. I want him to wear it and play like I was wearing it. Darrell Williams

I, Crystal Vallie Whitt, leave Hanna and Wyndy my love and luck. The beach I leave to Aretha, Lena, and Bridget. To the Lady Rebel Softball Team I leave my bench warming ability. I leave Brad late night card games and Kevin my painting.

Most of all, I leave the next editor of anything patience.

The first thing I want to leave is to my little brother, I leave him lots of maturity and hope he gets here one day. Just keep studying and you might. Pay attention and keep working hard. David Leverett

I leave my ability to be on time and to never argue to my little sisters, Courtney and Emelia. I leave Jennifer Jones my ability to walk this way. I leave my ability to keep from counteracting a wedgie in public to Suzy Bryan. I also leave Coach Coale the ability to find someone else to express his feelings to. Ken Moran

I leave all of my heart to Joe Carney, who is very close to me. I leave Emily Hughes and Pam Johnson my ability to keep my patience with Mrs. Bryan and her unorganized room. Amber Carney

I leave school spirit to all of you. I know this school isn't a very good athletic program in the past, but I have gotten better this year and I believe, if we believe in our school and show them we do, it will do better and grow strong. Chris Henley

???Question Corner???

by Dawn Grimes & Cary Clark

As we all know, graduation will soon be upon us, as will having to leave friends, family, and familiar places. While this may be a sad moment for some, to others it will be a heavily anticipated event. Looking back over the years that we, the seniors of Elba High School, have spent together, we cannot help but recall a legion of memories, some precious, some bitter-sweet. Our past together will be remembered by all. The future, however, is a different matter entirely. To many, it is an inanimate object, blurred and unfocused in their mind's eye, while to others it clearly symbolizes all the hopes and dreams and goals they have worked for their whole life. In recognition of the future of the seniors, this week's question is "What do you see yourself doing in ten years?"

Joseph Grogg: "Being a computer analyst for a major company, married, and with a family."

Any Sasser: "Having a good, stable job, with a lot of pay and raising a family."

Jessica York: "I don't know what I'm doing tomorrow, much less in ten years."

Heather Lawford: "Hopefully starting a new job, making plenty of money, and maybe starting a family."

Carrie Bradley: "Having a good job and maybe a family."

Shalandra Rogers: "Having a steady job as a nurse and making LOTS of money!"

Annie Austin: "Having a well-paying job in a large company as an accountant and happily married with a child."

ShaKeitha Williams: "I will have a well-paying job with a huge accounting firm, like Ernst & Young. I will be living in a large house, and will be happily married to an honest man."

Malinda Tyson: "I will be an officer in the Air Force, hopefully 2nd Lt. or I will be in the Air Reserves working in the field of psychology. I will be happily married with one child, and maybe planning my second."

Archie Wright: "I will have possibly advanced in my rank in the Reserves."

TIGER TALK...

by Jonathan Ross

For the past eight months, fourteen EHS seniors have been diligently working to produce the 1994-1995 Elbala yearbook. They, in coordination with their sponsor, Mrs. Jean Helms, have striven to produce a yearbook that will be both attractive and different from yearbooks of the past. Although sales are low, the Elbala Staff is hopeful that this year's Elbala will be a complete success. To recognize the efforts of the Elbala Staff and for a little more insight into the production of the '94-'95 yearbook, I talked with this year's editor, Dawn Grimes.

Tiger Talk: "How is this year's Elbala different from those of the past?"

Dawn: "This year's yearbook features a different type of layout than we have seen in the past. We are using bigger and better pictures. However, due to rising costs, this year's yearbook will be shorter than last year's, but we feel it's the best yet."

Tiger Talk: "What steps have you taken in promoting the Elbala?"

Dawn: "Staff members began selling yearbooks at the elementary school and in the hallways at the high school. A competition among the different grade levels was initiated in order to increase sales. Most recently, a large sign has been posted in hopes of reminding everyone who has yet to purchase a yearbook that they still have time. This has been fairly successful in promoting book sales."

Tiger Talk: "What does the Elbala Staff hope they have accomplished when the 1995 Elbala comes out in the fall of next year?"

Dawn: "In publishing the 1995 Elbala, we hope that we have successfully captured the essence of life at Elba High School."

Tiger Talk: "I would like to thank Dawn for her time in helping with this interview. The

Both of our girls have been active in their church choirs since they were old enough to sing, and Sunday was a special day as Melissa's and Melanie's choirs presented a special service at the United Methodist Church, and Sunday night Melanie joined her friends at First Baptist Church and dressed up like a sheep for its annual spring musical. The girls love to sing, the fellowship is great, and what better place to spend a Sunday than at one, or two, of our churches!

NEW BROCKTON PLACES 5TH AT STATE TOURNEY

The New Brockton Lady Gamecocks closed out the finest year in the history of girls softball last weekend by placing fifth at the Class 1A State Tournament. The Lady Gamecocks won their opening game and had their sights set on the state title, but got bounced by the defending state champs in their second game, and in their final game, a one-run loss, were just one hit away from winning in each of the last four innings. New Brockton's Coach Trent Trawick took a chance by scheduling over 60 games for his team this spring; however, the players learned a lot while having fun, the parents were supportive and the '95 Lady Gamecocks made history. Congratulations to everyone involved.

INTERESTING SPRING FOR NEW-LOOK ELBA TIGERS

The Elba Tigers will complete spring-foofball practice this week and it has been an interesting spring indeed, as new head coach David Lowery has put the Tigers through a physical spring in an effort to make certain that the right players will be in the right spots when the '95 season opens in August. The attitudes of the players has been excellent, the players seem to like their new head coach and new assistant (Kevin Killingsworth), and Coach Lowery has made it clear that discipline and hard work will be the key words for everyone involved in the program. The schedule next season will be identical to the killer schedule the Tigers faced a year ago, but with a new attitude and some added enthusiasm, you can bet the Tigers will be ready and will meet the challenge head on.

TEE-BALL IS NEW LEAGUE THAT'S JUST FOR FUN

Tee-Ball came to town this spring and so far in the season it has been probably the most successful, and most enjoyable league for the players, coaches and fans. The scoreboard isn't turned on during the games, so nobody has to worry about who wins and who loses, and all the players get to bat every inning and also play in the field. It looks a little hectic sometimes when one team is trying to get 15-18 players lined up just right; however, the players are learning and having fun at the same time, which is what it is all about.

ELBA'S WILLIAMSON NOW AMONG NATION'S BEST

Elba's Tim Williamson has now officially made his big time in the world of softball, and it appears that the local star will only shine brighter and brighter in years to come. Williamson is on a team based out of Gainesville, Georgia, but travels all around the nation just about every weekend competing in tournaments against other superstars. Two weeks ago, Williamson and his teammates flew all the way to California to play in four softball games, just four games. If that's not big time, I don't know what is!

Elba Merchants are all alone atop Men's Softball League standings

The Men's Softball League continued its season last week with the Elba Merchants moving back atop the standings.

Both of our girls have been active in their church choirs since they were old enough to sing, and Sunday was a special day as Melissa's and Melanie's choirs presented a special service at the United Methodist Church, and Sunday night Melanie joined her friends at First Baptist Church and dressed up like a sheep for its annual spring musical. The girls love to sing, the fellowship is great, and what better place to spend a Sunday than at one, or two, of our churches!

NEW BROCKTON PLACES 5TH AT STATE TOURNEY

The New Brockton Lady Gamecocks closed out the finest year in the history of girls' softball last weekend by placing fifth at the Class 1A State Tournament. The Lady Gamecocks won their opening game and had their sights set on the state title, but got bounced by the defending state champs in their second game, and in their final game, a one-run loss, were just one hit away from winning in each of the last four innings. New Brockton's Coach Trent Trawick took a chance by scheduling over 60 games for his team this spring; however, the players learned a lot while having fun, the parents were supportive and the '95 Lady Gamecocks made history. Congratulations to everyone involved.

INTERESTING SPRING FOR NEW-LOOK ELBA TIGERS

The Elba Tigers will complete spring football practice this week and it has been an interesting spring indeed, as new head coach David Lowery has put the Tigers through a physical spring in an effort to make certain that the right players will be in the right spots when the '95 season opens in August. The attitudes of the players has been excellent, the players seem to like their new head coach and new assistant (Kevin Killingsworth), and Coach Lowery has made it clear that discipline and hard work will be the key words for everyone involved in the program. The schedule next season will be identical to the killer schedule the Tigers faced a year ago, but with a new attitude and some added enthusiasm, you can bet the Tigers will be ready and will meet the challenge head on.

TEE-BALL IS NEW LEAGUE THAT'S JUST FOR FUN

Tee-Ball came to town this spring and so far in the season it has been probably the most successful, and most enjoyable league for the players, coaches and fans. The scoreboard isn't turned on during the games, so nobody has to worry about who wins and who loses, and all the players get to bat every inning and also play in the field. It looks a little hectic sometimes when one team is trying to get 15-18 players lined up just right; however, the players are learning and having fun at the same time, which is what it is all about.

ELBA'S WILLIAMSON NOW AMONG NATION'S BEST

Elba's Tim Williamson has now officially made the big time in the world of softball, and it appears that the local star will only shine brighter and brighter in years to come. Williamson is on a team based out of Gainesville, Georgia, but travels all around the nation just about every weekend competing in tournaments against other superstars. Two weeks ago, Williamson and his teammates flew all the way to California to play in four softball games, just four games. If that's not big time, I don't know what is!

TIM WILLIAMSON... is leading the nation in home-runs after four tournaments in the nation's "Super Slowpitch" softball circuit. Williamson, of Elba, is a member of the Superior-Southland softball team, ranked third in the nation.

Elba players join Samson sponsor in move to Major Open softball

The world of big time softball is little more than an expensive hobby for many of the sponsors in the game, and the teams are usually filled with players from all across the nation that fly in to the tournament sites to collect their cash, play in a few games and hit home-runs.

While many of the nation's top teams fit that mold, one fast-rising team is being sponsored by Earl Hudson, of Samson, Alabama, and his roster includes four players from Elba, two from Luverne, two from Enterprise, three from Florida and one from Georgia.

The Hudson-Steele's team, coached and sponsored by Earl Hudson, was organized last summer with a goal to finish in the Top 40 in the nation. The team met that goal, placing 36th in the final rankings of The Softball Times, and along the way won tournaments in Rome, Georgia; Calhoun, Georgia; Milton, Florida; Pensacola, Florida; and Elba, Alabama, while finishing high in tournaments in Birmingham and Ft. Walton Beach.

With a goal for 1995 of moving up in the rankings, the Hudson-Steele's team has begun to again make its move and has placed second in Milton, Florida, second in Mobile, Alabama; third in Milton, Florida; 1st in Milton, Florida; third twice.

Elba native leads nation in HR's

Williamson making mark among softball elite

When a fan of Major Open softball is asked to mention the game's top players, more often than not the names of Carl Rose, Dirk Androff, Ron Parnell, Scott Elliott or maybe Mike Macieko will be the names heard most.

Those players have been at the top of the softball world for years and have made their mark. However, the stars of the game may have to soon move over to make room for a newcomer on the scene that is taking the nation by storm.

The newcomer? Elba's own Tim Williamson, a 29-year-old, 5'9", 215 pound, bundle of dynamite, that is leading the nation in home-runs and ranks among the tops in the sport in all offensive categories!

Williamson began his softball career way back in 1985 as a 145-pound southpaw with Kelley's Packing, of Elba. He moved on to play with Elba Exchange Bank in 1988, then played with SouthTrust Bank, also of Elba, before joining Mike's Gym, an Elba team that jumped into the spotlight by winning the Major Open state championship. Williamson was named the "Most Valuable Player" on the state championship team, and with added experience, and muscle, moved on to play with Nanny's, of Spartanburg, South Carolina, in 1992, a team that finished 5th in the nation.

In 1993, Williamson made the move to Deep South-Worth, from Mississippi, but in 1994 he jumped again, this time landing with Southland, a Major Open team that went on to win the USSSA World Series.

This season Williamson is back with Superior-Southland, and both the team, and Williamson, are near the top of the standings in all polls.

"Back when I started playing I was just a puncher that used to get on base," said Williamson, "but I worked out with weights over the years and as we played better teams, and I competed against better players, I made up my mind that I would work as hard as it took for me to be just as good as any player in the nation."

"I'm one of the shortest and lightest players competing at the Super level right now," admitted the Elba native, "but it just makes it more fun when I hit 'em as far as the guys that are 6-5 or 6-6, and they all know that my size means nothing when I step on a softball field."

The Superior-Southland team has competed in four tournaments this season, claiming the championship in a tournament in California, while finishing second in a tourney in Maryland.

The team, based out of Gainesville, Georgia, is ranked third in the nation, and already has posted wins over #2 Bell Corp 24-17, #5 Converters 46-26 and #4 Lighthouse 56-29. The most runs scored in one game was 75, with the fewest being 20, even though most games are played with fences being 300-350 feet in distance.

"The parks we play in all have long fences," laughed Williamson, "but when you bring the best teams together, the balls will be flying out of the park and the scoreboard will be overflowing."

Superior-Southland averaged 61.5 runs and 32 home-runs per game in winning a recent tournament in Bakersfield, California, while Williamson enjoyed a "career game" by hitting six home-runs and knocking in 15 runs in one game.

Williamson also had a five home-run game in a win over Steele's, and was the Home-Run champ in a tournament in Georgia.

New Brockton sweeps past Sweet Water

The New Brockton Lady Gamecocks earned a trip to the State Tournament and wiped out two years of frustration at the same time last week when they swept two games from Sweet Water 18-6 and 5-3, in sub-state action.

New Brockton had been eliminated by Sweet Water two straight years in sub-state action; however, the Lady Gamecocks took command in the opening win and earned their first berth ever at state.

In the opener, New Brockton jumped out to a quick 8-0 lead, saw Sweet Water chop the lead to 8-6, then regained command and rolled to the lopsided 18-6 win. LaSana Cole, Laura Beatty and Cindy Lawson all got 3 hits in the win, while Brooke Hart, Heather Smith and Amy Arrington all went 2-4.

SCIENCE WINNERS...Students from New Brockton High School participated in the 1995 Southeast Regional Science Olympiad at Troy State University on March 11. Two teams from NBHS placed in the competition. Kendall Merritt and Courtney Campbell placed 3rd in the Nature Quest while Mark Windham and Craig Spencer placed 3rd in Amphibians and Reptiles. Alabama Supreme Court reverses $3.5 million jury verdict

The National Security Group, Inc., a Delaware Corporation, announced that the Alabama Supreme Court has reversed a $3.5 million jury verdict which had been rendered against NSGI's wholly owned subsidiary, National Security Insurance Company, and one of its officers. The verdict had been returned on February 10, 1994, in a case filed in Russell County, Alabama, by a former marketing representative of the insurance company. The former employee alleged fraud and retaliatory discharge in connection with his demotion and reassignment. The Alabama Supreme Court, in a written opinion released May 5, 1995, stated there was no evidence of fraudulent intent and remanded the case to the trial court for a new trial on the retaliatory discharge claim.

The National Security Group, Inc. is an insurance holding company. Its shares are traded in the over-the-counter market under the NASDAQ Symbol NSEC.

Apparently some nursing homes have already allowed the additional beds to be occupied, judging by a written statement from Margie Sellers, Executive Director of the State Nursing Home Association. She said, "Mr. Peters' action will be devastating to families across this state who have loved ones in these beds." Mrs. Sellers continued with, "And it Tindell is hopeful that this will alleviate the problem and the roadbed can be maintained properly.

B. J. Cardwell appeared briefly before the commission and expressed his displeasure with the county's contracted garbage collector, Environmental Waste Management.

He had received a letter from a collection agency threatening legal action if he did not pay his garbage bill.

"This disturbed me because I always pay my bills when I receive them," said Cardwell.

He told commissioners that he had not received a bill due to an error in his mail delivery. For some reason, unknown to him, the bill for his garbage collection was being sent to somewhere in Kansas; however the threatening letter got sent to the right address.

Cardwell asked for the commission's help in getting this matter resolved. They agreed to do so.

Mobley informed commissioners of a request to use the Farm Center, free of charge, by a Detective Roberts with the Enterprise Police Department.

Roberts, in a phone conversation with Mobley, told him that he wished to hold a benefit singing at the center to raise money for a family who recently lost a five-year-old son.

After concern was expressed by Attorney Fuller about waiving the rent, which would also waive the re-

ELBA HIGH STUDENT RECEIVES USA SCHOLARSHIP...The University of South Alabama has awarded a $3,000 yearly scholarship, totaling $12,000 over four years, Elba High School student, Cary Clark.

"These scholarships are very competitive and are offered to the most academically outstanding freshmen entering the University of South Alabama each fall quarter," said the assistant vice president for enrollment services at USA, Dr. J. David Stearns.

Students received these scholarships to the University of South Alabama based on their college entrance exam scores and their high school grade point average.

PASTOR'S CORNER

Danny Maddox - Minister
Whitewater Baptist Church

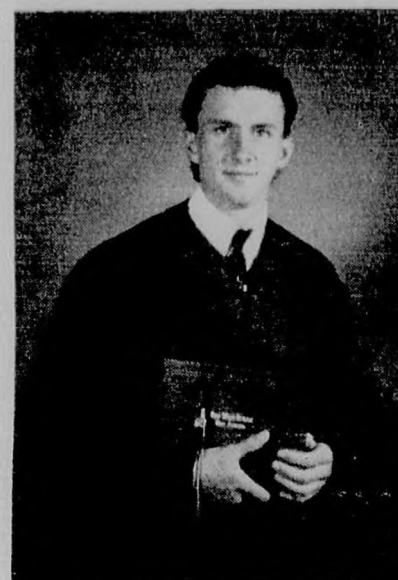

Focus on today

Today is a brand new day. It comes only once and will never come again. God has given us these 24 hours to use as we will. We should do something good with this day and not waste it. Let this be a day of opportunity and live it with courage, concern, and confidence. At this point you may say, "That's easy for you to say because you don't know my situation." That is true. But I can tell you that today is very important because you are giving a day of your life for it. Therefore, focus on today and do your best to make it useful, profitable, and successful.

Paul the Apostle tells us that every life is a plan of God's and that the one thing we should do is devote ourselves to carrying out this plan. We can do that by being obedient to the words we find in Philippians 3:14 which states, "Press toward the mark for the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." We should learn some valuable lessons from yesterday and make good plans for tomorrow, but we must press toward the mark today.

Here and now is all we have to work with. Too many times we allow dead yesterdays and unborn tomorrows to dominate our thoughts and actions. Try to understand God's plan for your life and do all you can to fulfill that plan today. Psalm 46:10 says, "Be still and know that I am God." Remember this: God has not promised the skies will always be blue, that we could have joy without trials or peace without pain; but He has promised light for our way, rest from our labor, grace for the trials and strength for the day. You see, God's plan is great. Find His plan for your life and live it as you focus on today. By the way, go to church and thank Him for His love and care.

Thomas Jeffery Kidd receives TSU scholarship

Thomas Jeffery Kidd

Dr. Jack Hawkins, chancellor of the Troy State University System, announced that Thomas Jeffery Kidd of Opp, AL is the recipient of the Chancellor's Award.

Kidd is a 1993 graduate of Opp High School. He is the son of Tommy and Dorothy Kidd of Opp, AL. Since the late 1960s, Troy State University has awarded academic and leadership scholarships to outstanding high school and junior college graduates who have excelled in academics and/or displayed leadership in various academic-related pursuits.

Pine Level School Reunion to be held

Selected scripture: John 10:1-5.

Thinking of you, praying for you. Mrs. Rena Felton, Mr. Jim L. Lee, Mr. John E. (Ben) Folmar, Mrs. Helen Folmar, Mrs. Johnnie Yelverton, Mrs. Lillian Tanks, Mr. Dennis Hogan, Rev. Charlie Jones, Mrs. Annie J. Lee, Mrs. Ida Hooks, Mrs. Catherine Waters, Mrs. Everette Askew, Mrs. Mertie L. Daniels.

Visitors

Visiting Mrs. Annie L. Williams (Shiloh Community) of Elba, AL were her children and grandchildren who all visited Rocky Head MB Church, Elba, AL, on Mother's Day. They were: Eugene and James Williams of Phoenix, AZ; Carolyn Williams and Steve Caldwell of West Palm Beach, FL; Jeraldine Owens, Tracy Williams, Clara Caldwell, Judy Williams, and Tabitha King, all of Enterprise, AL; and Frances Daniels of Elba, AL.

The group visited Nathan Williams in Eufaula, AL, on Saturday which included Harold Williams of Jacksonville, FL, and Willie Dorsey Smith of Birmingham, AL.

Ernestine Kelley, Vera Williams, and Eria Belcher visited Annie L. Williams and Roxie Porter, last Sunday evening.

Wallace and Mattie Belcher of Elba, AL, visited Grover and Eria Belcher on Sunday evening.

Harold Williams of Jacksonville, FL, visited his parents, Cleaven and Vera Williams of Elba, AL, and other relatives and friends recently.

Annual Men's Day

Morning Star Missionary Baptist Church of Troy, AL, Rev. C. L. Hollis - pastor, celebrated Men's Day, Sunday, May 21, 1995. Rev. A.R. Williams, pastor of Rocky Head MB Church-Elba, AL, and Shiloh Baptist Church-Tarentum, AL, was guest minister. Those attending from Rocky Head and Shiloh were: Rev. Williams, Bessie, LaRay, Brett, Chastity, and Keitha, Juanita Brooks, Evelyn Guley, Paul Williams, Jana Kelley, Kim Rideaux, Kurtis Kelley, Hattie Bell Carpenter, Melissa Kelley, Freddie Culver, Mattie Belcher, Wallace Belcher, Lucinda Carpenter, Yonice Flowers and Rodney, Mary A. Hooks, J.L. and Estella Williams, Stephanie Williams, Samuel and Evelyn Flournoy.

The Senior Citizens held their weekly meeting with eight members present. They were: Mary Seavey, Sammie Wambles, Mattie Lou Goodson, Pauline Wood, and Frank and Linnie McCollough. The helpers were: Sheila Haun and Diane Hudson. There were several of the members missing due to sickness.

The seniors which meet at the Mustard Seed Foundation would like to invite other seniors to come and join their fellowship. The members were entertained by playing games and fellowshiping with one another.
